RENAULT EURODRIVE – TERMS AND CONDITIONS

GENERAL CONDITIONS OF SALE - Applicable to sales of vehicles effected under temporary exemption from tax.

This present document relates to the supply of new RENAULT vehicles (Department of Special Export Sales) to customers who have the right to benefit from a tax-free regime under Temporary Transit Registration.

1 – FORMATION OF CONTRACT

1.1 – Cash sales or sales under a finance agreement outside the scope of French Law No 78.22 of 10 January 1978.

The contract comes into force the moment the order is signed and a deposit has been paid.

The customer (or finance body) must pay, in any payment form accepted by RENAULT (cheque, bill of exchange accepted and domiciliated), the balance of the price when the vehicle is delivered and before registration formalities have been completed by the said finance body should the customer have requested it so to do.

– Finance agreement coming within the scope of French law No 78.22 of 10 January 1978.

Where a vehicle under the present contract is sold or delivered with the assistance of a finance body, the method of financing (credit sale or hire agreement with Purchase Option) must in all cases be indicated on the contract.

The contract comes into force as soon as the prior offer of finance has been accepted by the customer and after the payment of a deposit which must not be higher than the contribution that the customer had arranged to pay in cash.

1.2.1 – If the customer selects DIAC as the finance body, he gives authority to RENAULT to present to DIAC the prior offer of finance and to receive for his own account the subsequent agreement from this latter body.

1.2.2 – If the customer selects another finance body, the customer will undertake himself to discuss the prior offer of finance with the said finance body. He must also inform the designated body, at the latest 7 days following his acceptance of the prior offer, if the finance body selected accepts or rejects his application or if he himself has withdrawn from the deal.

2 – PRICE GUARANTEE – TECHNICAL MODIFICATIONS

2.1 – The tax-free price of the vehicle described in the present contract is guaranteed for three months starting from the date the order is signed. If the delivery stipulated in the time covered by the price guarantee has not been effected within this period and if the delay is not the fault of the customer, the price guarantee period will be extended up to the time the delivery of the vehicle is effected, as long as the delay is not the result of a case of force majeure.

2.2 – This price guarantee applies in all cases, except where price variation results from technical modifications consequent to the application of regulations imposed by the authorities in France or the importing country.

2.3 – At all times it may be the case that modifications resulting from technical advances can be made to the vehicle on order, on condition that neither price increases or variations in quality levels occur, and that the customer has the option to indicate those features for which he accords his agreement.

3 – PAYMENT CONDITIONS

When booking, the customer is requested a credit card print. Renault reserves the right to use it and to debit the customer's account in the event of the non-payment of additional fees not covered by the contract, i.e.:

- out-of-France vehicle return charges,
- additional days beyond the duration of the initial contract,
- vehicle returned with missing parts.

4 – DELIVERY

4.1 – RENAULT will deliver the vehicle at the place and on the date indicated on the present contract.

The customer will take delivery of the vehicle under the same conditions.

The agreed delivery date, where there is an event constituting a case of force majeure, will be extended, to the benefit of the customer and the designated body, for a period equal in time to the said event.

In view of the special traffic and registration conditions applying in France to this type of vehicle:

- the vehicle registered tax-free can only be delivered to the purchasing client, the single possessor of the vehicle's registration document (except in the case of special dispensation given by the principal), after the customs authorities have verified that the conditions allowing a tax-free purchase under a Temporary Transit regime have been fully complied with.
- the customer undertakes to regularise the position of his vehicle vis-à-vis the customs authorities when the conditions allowing tax exemption are no longer being met.

5 – GUARANTEE

The vehicle ordered is covered by a legal guarantee for hidden defects as laid down in articles 1641 and thereafter in the Code Civil.

In addition, under the present contract relating to a tax-free sale, if it is used temporarily on the French mainland before being taken abroad, the vehicle also benefits from:

- a contractual guarantee covering any defect duly observed on the said vehicle :

the «Garantie Losange», the conditions of which appear hereinafter, and whose key points are stated in the maintenance booklet (or the RENAULT SERVICE booklet) given to the customer at the time of delivery.

- an Anti-Corrosion Guarantee, the conditions of which appear hereinafter and whose key points are stated in the maintenance booklet (or RENAULT SERVICE booklet) given to the customer at the time of delivery.

When the customer, in accordance with the terms of the present contract exports his vehicle outside of mainland France, the conditions of guarantee that shall apply will be those in force in the country where he resides, whether the transit registration is retained or not, because it is the place of residence that shall determine the guarantee conditions from which he can benefit.

5.1 – «Guarantee Losange»

5.1.1 – How long does the Guarantee Losange last?

Two years starting from the time of delivery, or failing this, from the date the vehicle was first put on the road as shown in the registration document, without a limit on mileage.

5.1.2 – What does the Guarantee Losange cover?

The customer benefits from the removal free of charge (parts and labour) of any material or construction fault duly found on the vehicle, on the customer's own initiative, as well as any damage caused either by this fault to other parts of the vehicle, by repair procedures or by the replacement of the part shown to be defected, according to conditions hereinafter defined.

The Guarantee Losange does not cover indirect consequences of a subsequent fault (loss of use of the vehicle, etc).

Service costs incurred by the customer, in accordance with the Manufacturer's recommendations and those costs connected to normal running of the vehicle, remain the customer's responsibility.

In addition, the Guarantee Losange does not apply to parts of the vehicle that have been altered, and does not cover consequences subsequent to such modifications (weakening of the vehicle, advanced wear and tear, alteration, etc) affecting other parts or engine components on the vehicle, or the overall characteristics of the latter.

5.1.3 – How does the Guarantee Losange operate?

In order to benefit from the Guarantee Losange, the customer must contact a member of the RENAULT dealer network displaying the brand sign; it is only such centres that can operate the scheme. It is up to the RENAULT repair shop to decide if the part in question needs repairing or replacing.

The customer will hand in the service booklet duly filled in (or the RENAULT SERVICE booklet) which will have been given to him at the time of delivery, confirming that the services recommended by the Manufacturer have been correctly carried out.

For certain types of vehicle, a service is carried out between 15,000 and 30,000 kms (Cf. service booklet).

The supply of engine and other oil and oil filters is charged to the customer; labour is free of charge.

The customer must have confirmation, as quickly as he can, from a RENAULT service centre, the only centre allowed to carry out procedures under this Guarantee, or have it stated in writing, that the part or defect is covered by the Guarantee Losange and, if the vehicle cannot be moved, he must call RENAULT Assistance. Failing this outside of normal opening times of the nearest RENAULT repair centre or where special conditions apply (breakdown on the motorway), the customer can call, as far as the breakdown and towing-off are concerned, another local car repairer belonging preferably to the RENAULT network.

The Guarantee Losange does not apply and the centre selling the vehicle is free of all responsibility:

- When parts have been put on, modifications have been carried out on the vehicle, without the Manufacturer's authorisation.
- When the stated defect is due to the fact that the customer has had the vehicle repaired or serviced by a centre not belonging to the RENAULT network.
- When the vehicle has been used under conditions that do not conform to those recommended by the Manufacturer (example: overloading or using the vehicle for sport competitions of any description whatsoever).
- When the vehicle has not been maintained normally, and notably, when instructions concerning the treatment, servicing or care to be taken during such procedures, outlined in the service booklet (or RENAULT SERVICE booklet) have not been adhered to.

When there is an intervention under the terms of the Guarantee Losange involving the vehicle being immobile for more than 7 consecutive days, an equivalent period of time will be added to the period of the Guarantee Losange still left to run on the date the customer initiates the said intervention, with written confirmation in the form of a signature on a repair sheet.

Parts replaced under the terms of the Guarantee Losange become the sole property of RENAULT.

The Guarantee Losange is applicable to the vehicle ordered outside of mainland France, under the same conditions as those in force in the country of origin of the vehicle.

6 – COMPUTER DATA AND THE RIGHTS OF THE INDIVIDUAL

Items of information requested from the customer at the time of taking the latter's order are essential for processing the said order. Such information is held under our control and can be communicated to RENAULT, its service subsidiaries and to members of its dealer network, in order to supply the customer with a quality service adapted to his particular needs. They can also be communicated to third parties with business dealings with RENAULT, who have signed up to a confidentiality agreement. Naturally, the customer has a right of access to such details of information on via our service centres and RENAULT's Customer Service Department.

7 – DISPUTES

In the case of disputes arising under the present contract, the sole competent courts will be French:

- If the customer is not an individual person, the court within the district of RENAULT's Head Office will be the sole competent body.
- If the customer is an individual person, the choice of competent court will be made in accordance with current legislation.

GENERAL CONDITIONS RELATING TO VEHICLE RETURNS

1 – RENAULT, or any other body designated so to do, agrees to take back from the customer the ordered vehicle, in accordance with the conditions stated hereinafter:

– The vehicle must be returned at the latest on the date indicated on the reverse of the present contract.

– Interruption before the due date. No refund is due to the customer in the event that the latter asks for his vehicle to be taken back before the date indicated on the reverse of the present contract.

– The vehicle must be returned in a perfect state of repair according, notably, to the advice and instructions of the Manufacturer shown in the service booklet (or the RENAULT SERVICE booklet) and the vehicle's technical handbook.

– If the vehicle is returned damaged without prior notification to RENAULT EURODRIVE insurance, the customer is liable to pay the sum required to return the vehicle to a correct state of repair.

– At the time of return, the customer must hand over to RENAULT or any other body selected by RENAULT all documentation relating to the vehicle, it being emphasised that the vehicle will not be accepted without the registration document. In case of loss, the customer is obliged to supply a certificate of loss drawn up by a police officer in France or a police officer abroad. The customer must sign a sales certificate as well as an authority for customs clearance of the vehicle.

– In case of price modification of the vehicle agreed at the time of taking the order and accepted by the customer, the return value will be changed by the same amount.

– The customer must adhere strictly to the date and place of return agreed with RENAULT.
